Red Bloc Blasts ERP, U. S. Aid To Greece

Delegates Of Other U.N. Nations Nap

Paris, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Russian bloc delegates charged today that the United States "is waging war against the Greek people" and conducting an economic cold war on eastern Europe. Some of the other delegates in the United Nations assembly slept through the horrors.

The assembly sided with the United States on the economic aid issue. It voted 33 to 6 against a Polish resolution which western delegates said looked innocent but actually was a condemnation of American support of the European Recovery Program (ERP).

Hector McNeill, Britain's acting foreign secretary, was among those who dozed off when Ales Belber of Yugoslavia began an attack on American policies in Greece. Speaking loudly in French Belber declared:

"In short, the United States of America is waging war against the Greek people. They (the U.S.) are doing it openly before the eyes of the whole world. He took the view that the present anti-communist Greek government does not represent the Greek people."

U. S. Military Head
Lt. Gen. James Van Fleet, head of the American military mission, is present at all meetings of the Greek defense council, the Yugoslav continued.

The national Greek army is "teeming" with U. S. officers known as liaison officers and war is being waged with the tacit approval of the United Nations, Belber said, adding:

"The United States is waging this war for reasons which are revealed by the building of military airports in Greece for their flying fortresses and the building of ports and strategic roads in the direction of the northern frontiers of Greece."

He called on the assembly to reject a political committee resolution which condemns Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria for helping the communist rebels in Greece.

Would Remove Troops From Greece
The assembly also has before it a Russian proposal intended to directly counter the political committee resolution. The Russians demand that the assembly discontinue immediately the special commission on the Balkans and that all foreign troops and foreign military personnel (American and British) be withdrawn from Greece.

The Greek case is the second oldest controversy in U. N. history. The Russian-U. S. dispute is the oldest. Russia lodged a complaint with the Security Council in London on Jan. 21, 1946 calling for the withdrawal of British soldiers from Greece. Later the Russians broadened the charges to include American military personnel. In various forms the Greek question has been before the U. N. since that time.

Supported By Slav Bloc
Only the Slav bloc supported the Polish resolution to forbid economic pressure by one nation against another as a means of influencing domestic or foreign policy.

During the debate Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland said the United States is carrying on an "economic cold war against eastern European countries."

He was supported by Vladimir Clementis, Czechoslovak foreign minister, and Dr. A. A. Arutunian of Russia.

Fourteen Germans
Hanged Friday
For War Crimes
Munich, Germany, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Fourteen German war criminals were hanged at Landsberg prison today—four of them for slaying captured American airmen.

Since the middle of last month 87 men have been executed out of 139 convicted by U. S. war crimes courts on charges of killing concentration camp inmates and American prisoners of war. The cases of 48 of the 52 remaining under sentence of death are being reviewed.

Executed for slaying captured American airmen were SS Lts. Karl Adam Kirschner and Albert Hammer, both 40; Heinrich Baumann, 38, a Wuerzburg policeman, and Andreas Fingerbrand, 46, a Nazi party official.

Others executed included: Hubert Krautwurst, 24, an SS sergeant. An army statement said he was accused of killing general inmates of Buchenwald concentration camp and of taking pleasure in torturing the inmates "by making them kneel on chicken wire with loose bricks under their toes."

Longshoremen Reject Proposed Wage Pacts

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Opposition to a new tentative wage agreement to end the paralyzing east coast waterfront strike here tonight and was reported developing in three other major Atlantic ports.

The first organized opposition to the pact developed in Brooklyn where 2,000 AFL Longshoremen decided at a meeting to reject the proposed contract when they vote tomorrow, the official date for balloting among east coast dock workers.

They made their decision at a gathering called to form a rank and file committee to fight acceptance of the new pact. They represented some 13,000 dock workers in 13 Brooklyn docks.

Their action came as the nation's strike-bound shipping industry hoped for an affirmative vote from east and west coast maritime unions to begin early normal operations.

A "Yes" vote by some 92,000 union members on proposed wage pacts was needed to bring an end to the east and west coast dock workers' strikes and free some 500 vessels from their piers.

Several Longshoremen at the Brooklyn meeting told newsmen that a Boston delegate advised the gathering Longshoremen in his port and

Brussels Alliance
Completes Draft
Of Defense Pact
London, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Authoritative diplomatic sources said today the five nations of the Brussels Alliance have completed their draft of a proposed defense pact, with the United States and Canada.

The pact may be submitted to the United States and Canada in Washington next week.

Representatives of Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg completed work on the document in London several days ago and handed it over to their governments for approval. Several suggested changes, mostly in phrasing, have now been incorporated, it was reported.

There has been no official disclosure on the terms of the draft, but it is believed to provide for a 30-year alliance without definitely committing the western hemisphere countries to go to war should there be an attack on one of the members.

There is no indication how far the document goes in providing for other European nations, such as the Scandinavian countries, Italy, Portugal or Spain, to join later.

Diplomatic officials said an attempt will be made in Washington to complete a treaty in time for President Truman to lay it before congress on Jan. 20.

Five Firms Seek
Suit To Bankrupt
Tucker Company
Chicago, Nov. 26.—(AP)—A suit seeking reorganization of the Tucker corporation under the federal bankruptcy laws was filed today in federal court by five Chicago area firms. They claim Tucker owes them a total of $5,461.53.

They alleged that Tucker manufactured an as yet unmarketed rear-engine automobile, has had $10,000,000 in losses in the last two years, and is unable to pay its debts.

The firms and the amount each claims are: Barrett Christie company, $3,207.80; Aero Metal Products Corp., $238.80; Harris Welding and Equipment Co., $420.25; Size Control Co., $605.31, and the Vascology-Ramco Co., $877.07.

The latter two firms are located in North Chicago, Ill. The others are in Chicago.

Last Monday an involuntary bankruptcy suit against Tucker was filed by three companies claiming $3,668 owed them. They are the Cadillac Gauge Co., Detroit; and Varco, Inc., and Western and Campbell Co., both of Chicago.

Newly Born Baby
Boy Found Frozen
Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 26.—(AP)—A newly born baby boy was found frozen to death today on the doorstep of a home here.

Coroner Wesley Schrader said the child was found in a pastboard box, about 12 inches by 18 inches, on the porch of the Wyoming children's home society.

Schrader said the child was dressed in a little shirt and night gown. Its tiny legs were bare. A light child's blanket had been placed under and over the child.

Kai-Shek Won't Get Invitation To U. S.

Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Chiang Kai-Shek won't get an official White House invitation to come here to discuss China's plight. But his wife is planning on a visit.

President Truman turned down a suggestion by Rep. Sol Bloom (D-N.Y.) today that the Generalissimo be asked to come to the United States to present a first hand account of conditions in China, where communist forces have overrun much of the north.

Emerging from the President's office, Bloom told reporters that Mr. Truman "didn't see how Chiang could leave China at this time." The congressman, who is slated to head the House Foreign Affairs committee, said he reached the same conclusion after talking over the matter with the President.

But, Bloom asserted: "What we need is real information about the Chinese situation, information of the kind we cannot get simply by sending men into China to stay a few weeks."

Meanwhile, Madame Chiang's impending visit was made known by the State department and confirmed by the Chinese embassy.

Both said they knew no details at all even the time of her arrival or the length of her stay.

There appeared to be little doubt, in any quarter, however, that the prime purpose of her mission would be to solicit further and stepped-up help from the United States for the central Chinese government in the war against the communists.

She appeared for such assistance over the radio last Sunday, in a broadcast from China. In that speech, she said she had received reports from many quarters that she undertake a trip to the United States. She said, however, she was not able to leave immediately.

President Orders
Full Speed Ahead
On European Aid
Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—President Truman tonight ordered full speed ahead on European recovery. He authorized use of the full $4,000,000,000 in Marshall plan grants by next April 2.

The action shortens by three months the period for which the money was appropriated.

It means that the new congress will be asked for a supplemental appropriation—about $1,250,000,000—to carry ECA through June 30 the end of the fiscal year.

Hoffman has stated ECA will spend at a slower rate in the next fiscal year, so far has given no estimate.

The ECA administrator disclosed last month he would seek the speeding up, in fact, has given his spending to that expectation.

Hoffman told reporters that "substantial" progress now is being made in boosting production and exports, and that "now is the time to hit and hit hard for recovery."

Alert Policeman
Gives 'Dead' Girl
New Lease On Life
New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—A pretty blonde who was given up as dead yesterday was still alive tonight in a New York hospital, though her condition was critical.

She had a chance to live because a young policeman—sent to stand guard over her apparently dead body—saw a flicker of life.

The woman, Miss Mary Gray, 25, was pronounced apparently dead by an ambulance attendant yesterday in her room at the Martha Washington hotel. Police noticed an empty sleep-bottle in a table drawer.

But the policeman, Richard Petrucci, sent there as a guard, saw her stir slightly. He noticed tiny beads of perspiration on her forehead.

For half an hour he gave artificial respiration.

Then he held a mirror to the woman's mouth and found there was moisture on it.

Another ambulance rushed Miss Gray to Columbus hospital.

She registered at the hotel last July 24, and said her home was in San Francisco.

Truman, Foley Confer On Housing Problems

Re-elect Murray CIO National President

Portland, Ore., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Parading cheering CIO delegates today re-elected as president a stern Phil Murray who asserted he would never "permit communist infiltration into the national CIO."

It was the end of a precedent-breaking convention. For the first time in many years a bitter floor fight broke out over CIO policies and communists. The fight raged daily—until today's session, which was all cheers and applause.

It was not quite unity, for a small minority—less than 10 per cent of the delegates—refused to take part in the convention with cheering, singing delegates parading about the convention hall, throwing confetti, waving flags and clapping hands.

Murray also announced he intended to push at once an intensive organization campaign, similar to that of the mid-1930's when the CIO was born.

Murray will go into the campaign armed with authority from the delegates to take "proper action" when necessary against unions which have failed to grow. These include several left-wing unions, the particular target of Murray and the convention.

Actually, the power was voted to the executive board, but Murray was expected to play the leading role in any crack-down.

Murray also pledged support to President Truman's legislative program and called for extension of collective bargaining to secure "social insurance and pension schemes" designed to protect all workers.

"We invite the cooperation of the little businessman, farmer, church, the AFL and other unions to join with us in this common cause—the cause of the President of the United States and the cause of the CIO," he said.

The cabinet consists of eight Catholics, seven Socialists and two non-party men, a coalition similar to that which resigned last week. The cabinet fell when Minister of Justice Paul Struyke quit under fire from Socialists in parliament for his pardoning of two Belgians who collaborated with the Germans.

Struyke, a Catholic, was supported by other Catholics of the old cabinet. His job in the new cabinet was given to another Catholic, Henri Moreau Ode Melen.

Gaston Eyskens, Catholic, who failed to form a new government, continues as minister of finance and vice premier.

The ministry of foreign trade, which includes administration of European recovery aid, goes to a non-party man, George Moens de Farming. Dispute over the post between Catholics and Socialists prevented Struyke from organizing a new government on his first try.

Col. Roul de Vriesse continues as minister of defense, the other non-party post.

The veteran Charleston judge in this way reaffirmed and made permanent his preliminary decision of last July 16, granting negroes the right to vote in 1945 party primaries.

The decision came in the case of David Brown, a Beaufort negro, who brought action against the South Carolina Democratic party and its officials to obtain full participation in party affairs.

Blind Negro Gets
Death Sentence
For Ax Slaying
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Death in the electric chair was decreed today for a blind negro convicted of slaying a negro woman with an ax and wounding her young daughter in an argument over a $20 loan.

The state supreme court upheld a death sentence given 40-year-old Buster Sneed of Bibb county for the killing of Ellen Mason last Jan. 14. The execution date was set for Jan. 28.

Defense Attorney J. Fred Wood and jail attendants said Sneed lost his sight several years ago and "has to be led around."

In a confession introduced at his trial, Sneed admitted killing the woman because, he said, she refused to repay a year-old $20 loan.

After the slaying, court records showed, Sneed got a friend to accompany him to the sheriff's office to surrender.

Maselle Blackman, 12-year-old daughter of the slain woman, testified the assailant hacked her mother to death and wounded her.

Arrange Four Point Program For Congress

Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—President Truman and the government housing chief today talked over plans to get more roofs over American heads as quickly and as cheaply as possible.

Housing Administrator Raymond M. Foley said after the White House conference that they had discussed ways to get quick aid from both Congress and private industry to boost production and cut prices.

Later, the government's housing and home finance agency said it was making progress in a plan to standardize building codes and materials.

This plan, Foley explained, it to help private industry by making available to it technical know-how worked up through government research.

Four-Point Plan
Foley's talk with Mr. Truman today centered around a four-point program which is to be offered to congress probably in January:

1. Federal aid for low-rent housing projects for low-income families.

2. Federal loans and grants for slum clearance.

3. Federal aid to farmers for rural homes and repairs.

4. Federal sponsorship of a long-range housing research program to help private industry.

Seek Cooperation Of Builders
Foley said that in addition to the legislative program, the government will make a nation-wide effort to win cooperation of builders, lenders, labor and other interested groups to stimulate more home construction at lower costs and rents.

The housing legislation being planned is similar to the twice-beaten Taft-Elender-Wagner bill, named for Senators Taft (R-Ohio), Elender (D-Ia.) and Wagner (D-N.Y.).

Elender has announced he will serve such a bill as soon as congress meets.

Depends On Team-Work
The government's standardization program depends on cooperation among technicians of private industry, contractors, builders, and even universities, Foley said.

One specific problem already attacked is the uniform plumbing code. A committee composed of representatives of the National Association of Master Plumbers, the United Association of Journeymen Plumbers, the U. S. Public Health Service and the National Bureau of Standards has developed a uniform plumbing code for housing.

The Housing and Home Finance agency is preparing three educational booklets explaining the standardization program. One will go to home buyers, the second to architects and designers, and the third to contractors and builders.

Also model building codes will be worked up for communities to adopt.

British Biologist Attacks Soviet
Science Academy
London, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Sir Henry Dale, distinguished British biologist, attacked the Soviet Academy of Sciences today for attempts to mutilate scientific truth in the interests of communist political philosophy.

To emphasize his protest, Dale announced his resignation as an honorary member of the Soviet academy in a letter published in the Times.

The Soviet academy, he said, has restricted by decree all research and teaching in genetics—the study of plant and animal breeding—to a "politically important orthodoxy" advocated by T. D. Lysenko.

Lysenko, director of the Lenin Academy of Genetics, teaches that changes in plants and creatures brought about by environment are transmissible to succeeding generations.

After a running fight with dissenting Soviet scientists, Lysenko has succeeded in having his views adopted as official. The others have been warned to fall into line and quit espousing western theories which could hurt.

Abe Lincoln proved himself no prophet when he said at Gettysburg: "The world will little note nor long remember what we say here."

Anna Louise Jackson Weds James Angelo

Thanksgiving Day Ceremony Unites Couple At Church

In an impressive double-ring ceremony which took place at nine o'clock Thanksgiving Day at the Church of Our Saviour, Miss Anna
Louise Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley H. Jackson, rural route six, Jacksonville, became the bride of James W. Angelo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Angelo, rural route two,
Jacksonville.

The vows were received by the Rev.
Father Raymond Franzen who was also celebrant of the nuptial Mass which followed. Appropriate musical selections were played by Mrs. Alta
Elsch, church organist.

For the wedding occasion, the altar of the church was banked with large bouquets of white chrysanthemums, accented by glowing tapers.

Attended By Sister, Brother
Attending the couple were Miss Agnes Jackson, sister of the bride, who served as maid of honor, and Russell Jackson, the bride's brother, as best man. Wilfred Schofield and Donald Lovell were ushers. Pat
Flynn and Larry Beeley served the Mass.

White slipper satin fashioned the gown worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. The gown was styled with a shadow-sheer yoke of nylon marquisette, which lent an off-the-shoulder effect to the Bertha neckline, slim bodice, accented with self-covered buttons, and long, tightly-fitted sleeves which tapered to points over the wrists. The flowing skirt was made entirely of tulle.
The finger-tip veil of bridal illusion was caught with a tulle of pearlized orange blossoms. White roses, centered with carnations, comprised the bridal bouquet.
Wears Faile Gown
The maid of honor was gowned in a floor-length dress of aqua tulle fashioned with a sweetheart neckline. She wore a matching headdress and carried a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers.
For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose a black dress with which she wore black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a royal blue dress with black accessories. Both had corsages of red roses.

THE STORY: Well-to-do Louis Durand carries on a correspondence courtship with a Miss Julia Russell, whom he has never seen. She comes from St. Louis to New Orleans by boat to marry him. She is young, ravishing, blond, within a month of their marriage, she withdraws $25,000 from his bank account and disappears. Investigation proves her an impostor. Durand retains Walter Downes, detective, to prove that a crime was committed against the real Julia Russell, who vanished on the boat trip to New Orleans. A year later, Durand is alone in Illinois. He makes the acquaintance of a Colonel Worth in a hotel bar, arranges to meet the colonel and his son, Miss Carlie, for dinner. At the restaurant, Durand catches a glimpse of Miss Carlie before he is seen himself. She is the woman he knew as Julia. A rose goes into her hair as she approaches. At last she approaches.

HE jumped up quickly and looked around. Strangely enough, for all the length of time he'd been in the room, he'd made no plans for concealment, he had to improvise them now. He saw the screen there, and chose that. It was the quickest and most obvious method of effacing himself. He could see through the perforated, lacelike, scrolled wood-work at the top.

The door opened, and she had arrived.

Two figures came in, not one; and advancing only a step or two beyond the doorway, almost instantly blended into one, stood there looking in ravenous embrace in the semishadow of the little foyer. A gossamer piquancy of breath-borne champagne or brandy reached him, admixed with a little perfume. His heart drowned in it.

There was no motion, just the rustle of pressed garments.

He recognized the colonel's voice, in a thick whisper. "I've been waiting for this all evening."

My girl, you are, my girl!" The rustling strengthened to active resistance.

"Harry, that's enough now. I must wear this dress again. Leave me at least a shred of it."

She broke away at last, and entered the room itself. She went to the night light, and it flared from a spark to a sunburst at her touch. And as the light bathed her, washing away all indistinctness of outline and of feature, she glowed there before him in full life once more, after a year and a month and a day.

And an old wound in Durand's heart opened and began to bleed all over again.

SHE threw down her fan, she threw down her shoulder scarf; she drew off the one glove she had retained and added that to the one she had carried loose, and threw them both down.

"Wasn't it too bad about poor Florrie?" she said, off-handedly, over one shoulder to the colonel.

"What do you suppose became of the young man you arranged to have her meet?"

"Oh, blast him!" Worth said, truculently. "Forget, maybe. He's no gentleman. If I run into him again, I'll cut him dead."

She was seeing to her hair now. Touching it a bit, without disturbing it too much. Gracefully crouching a trifle so that the top of the mirror frame could encompass it comfortably. "What was he like?" she asked idly. "Did he seem well-to-do? Would we—would Florrie, I mean—have liked him, do you think?"

"I hardly know him. Name was Randall or something. I've never seen him spend more than fifty cents at a time for a whiskey punch."

"Oh," she said on a dropping inflection, and stopped with her hair, as if losing interest in it. She turned and moved toward him suddenly, hand extended in parting gesture. "Well, thank you for a congenial evening, Harry. Like all your evenings it was most delectable."

Worth made a sudden convulsive move, and they blended into one again, this time in full light of mid-room. But for a moment only. Then Durand could see her head avert itself; smiling benevolently, yet avert itself. She twisted to face the door, and in turning, managed to get Worth to turn likewise; then somehow succeeded in leading him toward it.

SHE was standing within the gap of the door now, alone at last, her arm extended to the outside. Worth must have been kissing it repeatedly, the length of time she maintained it that way.

All he could hear was a subdued murmur of reluctant parting.

She withdrew her arm with effort, pressed the door closed.

He saw her face clearly as she came back into the full light. All the playfulness, coquetry, were wiped off it as with a sponge. It was shrewd and calculating, and a trifle pinched, as if with the long wearing of a mask.

She moved over to the desk, took down its lid and seated herself at it. She drew out a sheet of notepaper from the rack. Took up a pen and dipped it, and squaring her other arm above the surface to be written on, began to write.

Durand moved over from behind the screen, and slowly walked across the carpet toward her. It gave his tread no sound, though he wasn't trying for silence. He advanced undetected, until he was standing behind her, and could look down over her shoulder.

"Dear Billy," the paper said.

The pen had stopped, and she was nibbling for a moment at its end.

He put out his hand and let it come lightly to rest on her shoulder. Left it there, but lightly, lightly, as she had once put her hand to his shoulder, lightly, but crushing his life.

At the restaurant, Durand catches a glimpse of Miss Carlie before he is seen himself. She is the woman he knew as Julia. A rose goes into her hair as she approaches. At last she approaches.

HER fright was the fright of guilt, and not innocence. Even before she could have known who it was. For she didn't turn to look, as the innocent of heart would have. She held her head rigidly as it was, turned the other way, neck taut with suspense. She was afraid to look. There must have been such guilt strewn behind her in her life, that anyone's sudden touch, in the stillness of the night, in the solitude of her room, she must have known could bode no good.

Her one hand dropped the pen lifelessly. Her other clawed secretively at the sheet of notepaper, sucking it up, causing it to disappear. Then dropping it, crumpled, over the desk side.

Still she didn't move; the sleek fatty-colored head held still, like something an axe was about to fall on.

Her eyes had found him in the mirror by now. It was over to the left of her, and when he looked at it himself, he could see, in the reflection of her talcum-white face, the pupils darkening the far cor-

SHE turned, so swiftly that the transplacement of the silken back of her head by the plaster-white cast of her face was almost like an apparition.

"You act as though you don't remember me," he said softly. "Surely you haven't forgotten me, Julia. Me of all people."

"How'd you know I was here?" she demanded granularly.

"I didn't. I was the other man who was to have met you at the restaurant party tonight."

"How'd you get in here?" "Through the door."

She had risen now, defensively, and was trying hard to reverse the desk chair to get it between them, ready as it was, but there was no room to allow for its insertion.

He took it from her and set it to rest with his hand.

She stroked one arm, shivering, all the way up to the top.

"What is it, Lou? What are your plans for me?"

His hand rose slowly to that part of his coat which covered where the gun was resting against him. Remained there a moment. Then crept around to the inside and found it, by the handle. Then drew it out, so slowly, so slowly, the bone handle, the nickle-plated chambers and fluted barrel seemed never to stop coming.

"I came here to kill you, Julia."

A SINGLE glance she gave it. Just enough to identify it, so sure that he had the means to do it on his person. Then after that, her eyes were for his alone, never left them from then on.

She moved toward him slowly, closer step by step. Then halted as the gun touched her.

"All right, Lou," she whispered.

He withdrew the gun from between them.

She came a step closer with its removal.

"Don't hesitate, Lou," she breathed. "I'm waiting."

His heel edged backward, carrying him a hair's breadth off. He stuffed the gun into his side pocket to be rid of it, hastily, fumblingly, careless how he did so.

And there was the answer. If she'd been a gambler, she'd won. If she'd been no gambler, she'd read his eyes right the first time.

She gave no sign. Not even of having triumphed; which is the way of the triumphant when they are clever as well. His face was bedewed with accumulated moisture, as though it were he who had taken the risk.

"Then if you won't kill me what do you want of me?" she asked.

"To take you back to New Orleans and hand you over to the police," he said grimly. "Get yourself ready."

"If it's the money, wait—I have some here, I'll give it to you. And if it's not enough, I'll make it up—I swear I will."

"Not for that. You were my wife, in law, and there was no crime committed, in law."

"Then for what?"

"To answer what became of Julia Russell. The real one. You're not Julia Russell, and you never were. Do you pretend you are?"

She didn't answer. He thought he could detect more real fright now than at the time of the gun. Her eyes were wider, more strained, at any rate.

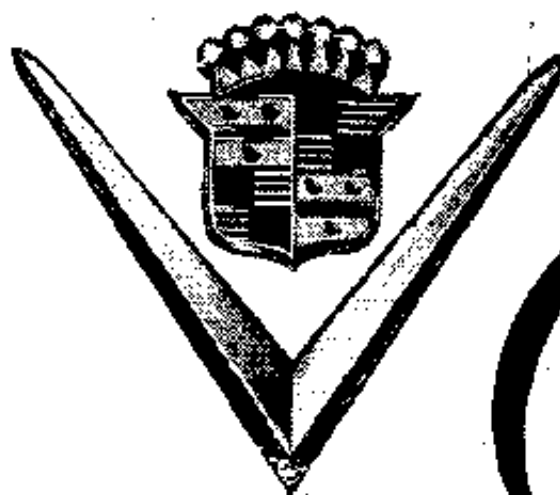

"To tell them what you did with her," he said. "And there's a name for that. Would you like to hear it?"

"No, no!" she protested.

"Mur—" he began.

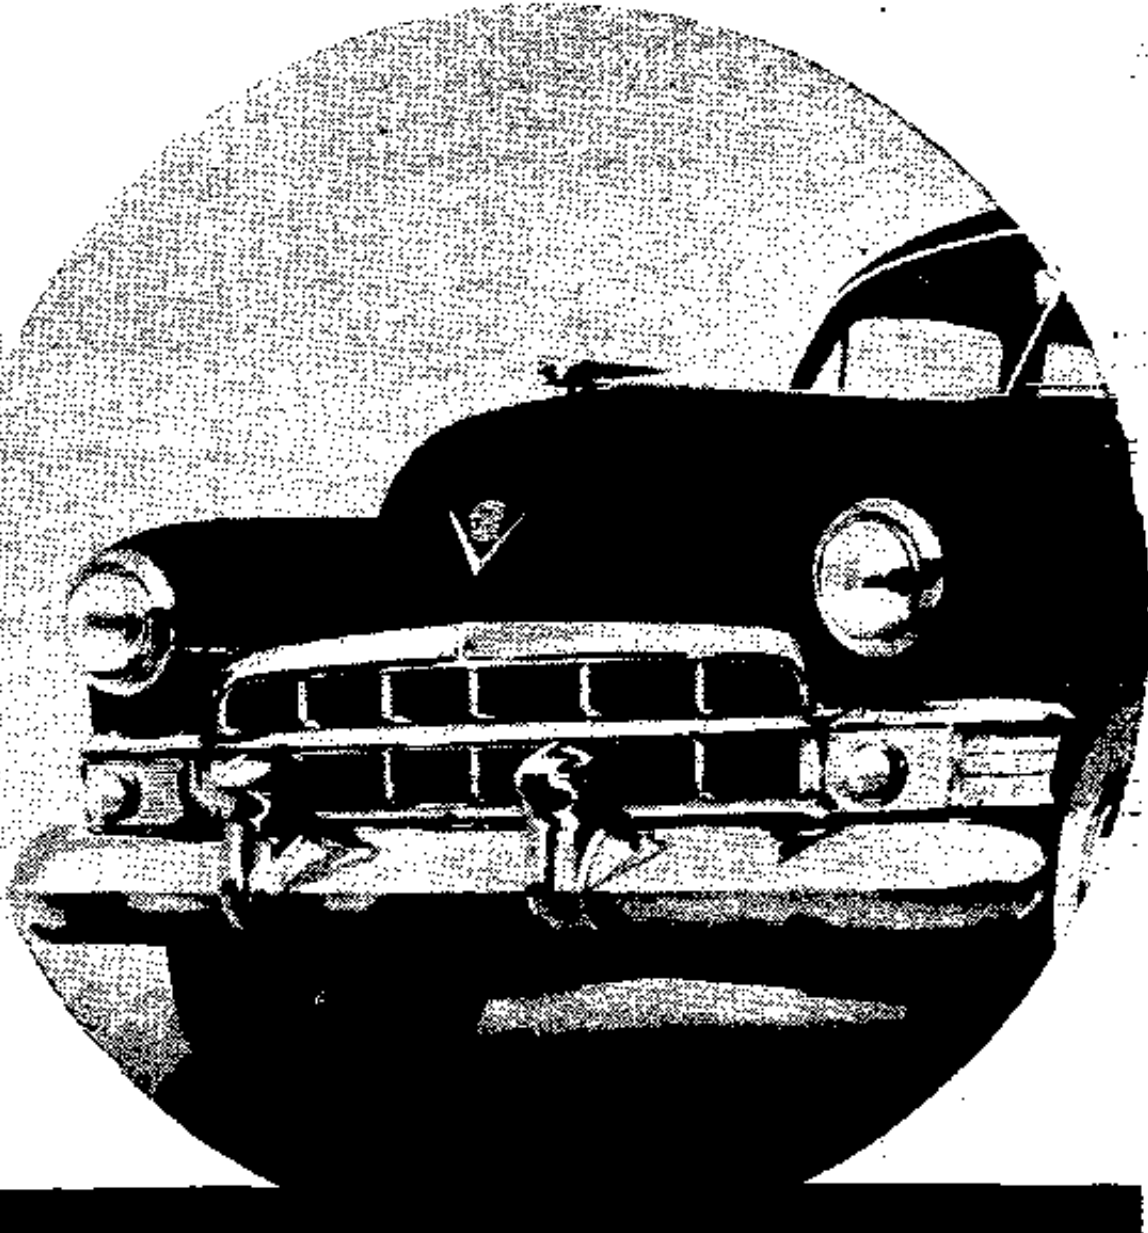

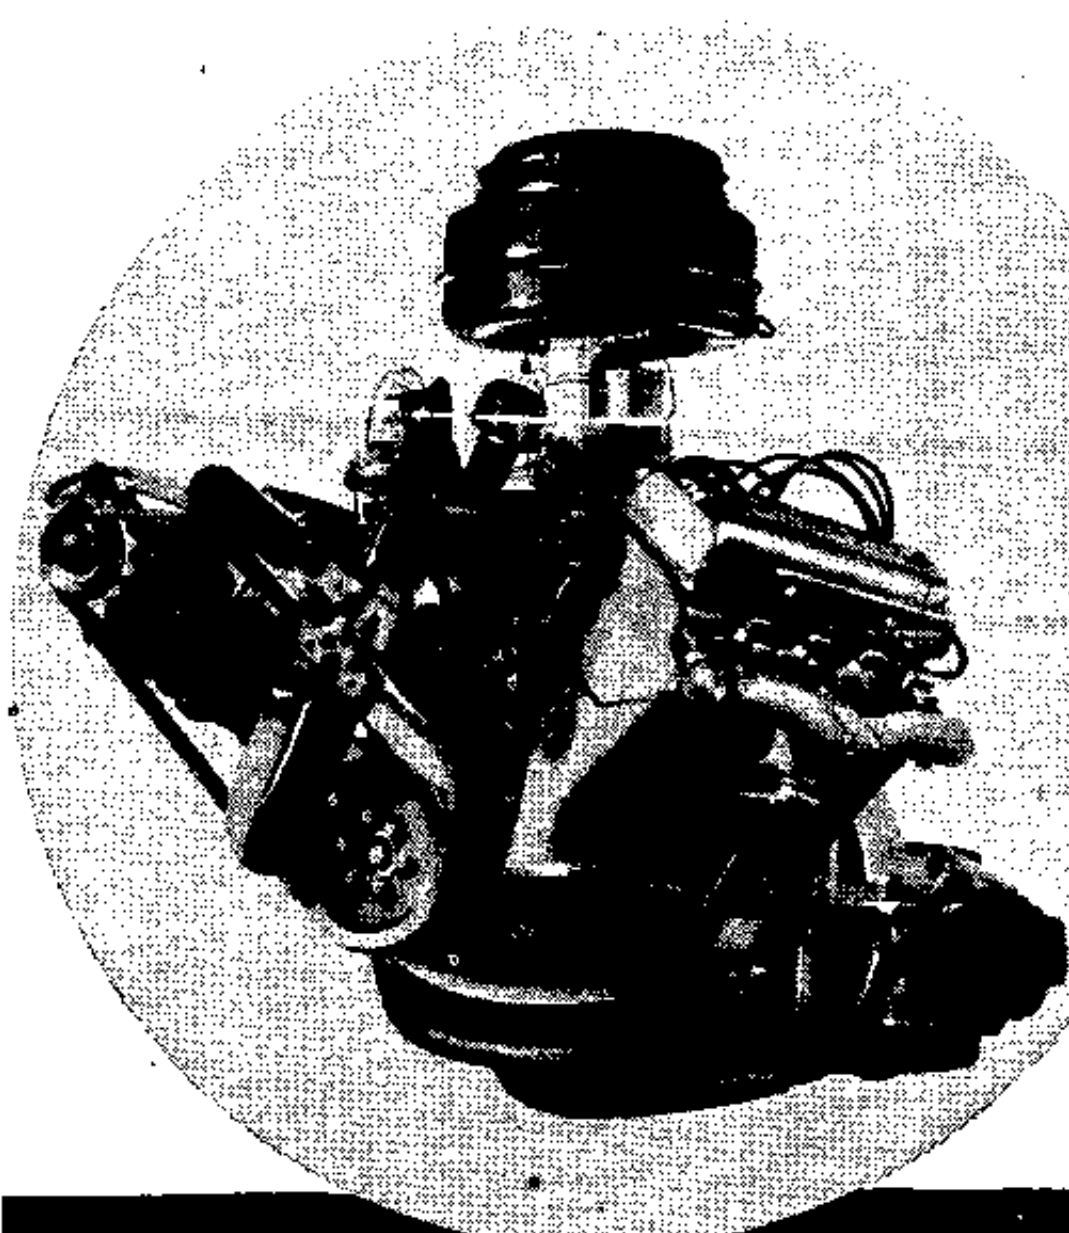

And then her hands had found his mouth and stopped it, terrifiedly. "No, no! Lou, don't say that! I had nothing to do with it. I don't know what became of her. Only listen to me, hear me; Lou, you must listen to me!"

PRESENTS ITS CREATIVE MASTERPIECE...

The world's newest engine—for the world's finest car!

White Motor Division, Detroit, Michigan

No Cadillac announcement has ever been more significant than the one which appears on this page. For, this year, Cadillac presents its creative masterpiece—a wholly new V-type eight-cylinder engine—which is, beyond all doubt, the highest development yet attained in automotive power plants. * This great power plant has been twelve years in the building—for basic development work started in 1936. It has many unusual qualities which set it apart from all other creations of its kind. It is far more alert, powerful and responsive to the throttle—yet it affords an increase in gasoline economy of approximately twenty per cent. And the manner of its performance actually challenges the imagination. It is liquid smooth; it is quick and eager beyond all experience; yet the power application is so effortless that the driver is scarcely aware of the engine's existence. The car seems almost to move by automatic propulsion. * Even experienced Cadillac owners must put aside all previous conceptions of performance when they drive the 1949 Cadillac. It is a revelation—from silken start to silken stop. * There are, of course, many other advancements in addition to the history-making engine. There is new beauty in the front ensemble; there is a newly-designed, more attractive instrument panel, with all driving controls at your finger tips; and throughout the chassis and body will be found those characteristic refinements which result from Cadillac's unceasing search for perfection. * But the big Cadillac story, for 1949, is performance. It is not only the world's new standard—it is beyond the world's current conception.

Rogers-Crosson Vows Pledged Thanksgiving

Couple United In Single-Ring Rites At Church Rectory

Glowing tapers, arranged amidst setting of ferns, palms and white chrysanthemums, provided a lovely setting for the marriage of Miss Anna Mae Crosson and Thomas G. Rogers, which was solemnized Thanksgiving Day in the rectory of the Church of Our Saviour.

The couple pledged their vows in a single-ring ceremony performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Father John Morris. Only members of the immediate family and close friends were in attendance.

Miss Jean Davison served as maid of honor and John Rogers, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man.

Given By Father
The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white tulle, fashioned with a yoke of sheer illusion, giving an off-shoulder appearance to the Bertha neckline, fitted bodice featuring long pointed sleeves, and skirt made of tulle.

Her veil was fingertip in length and fell from a crown of illusion tulle. As her only jewelry, she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet was of white carnations, showered with baby breath and satin streamers.

Dawn rose satin fashioned the gown worn by the maid of honor.

The gown was designed with a sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves, fitted bodice and side drape. She wore matching white and hands of satin loops in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink carnations, tied with blue satin.

The bride's mother chose a dress of gray crepe, while the bridegroom's mother wore blue crepe. Both had corsages of pink and white carnations.

Reception At Hotel
A reception was held at the Dunlap hotel from 5 to 7 o'clock. The serving table was decorated in a color scheme of pink and white and held a three-tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom.

Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Vera Crosson, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Dwight Masterson, Miss Velma Hogg, Mrs. Mary Lou

A medley of piano tunes was played during the reception by Mrs. Don L. Wood, who also furnished music for the ceremony.

Following the reception, the couple left on their wedding trip. For traveling, the bride chose a brown suit, with which she wore balancing accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Rogers was graduated from Jacksonville High school and has been employed at Deppes. Her husband attended Jacksonville High school and served in the U. S. Army during World War II. He is now engaged in the wholesale fruit and produce business.

Upon returning from their wedding trip, the couple will make their home at 305 South Chambers street, Jacksonville.

Speak Vows At Trinity Church Thanksgiving Day

Miss Elizabeth Ingram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ingram of Mountain Lakes, N. J., became the bride of Scott Longenbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Longenbaugh of Winchester, in a lovely ceremony performed at Trinity Episcopal church in this city, at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The Rev. Reginald Harris officiated at the ceremony which was performed before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums, palms, and candelabra.

Noel Reusey presided at the organ, accompanying Miss Lucille Haney of MacMurray college music faculty, who sang "Oh, Perfect Love." Robert Holmes of Ashland and John Reed, Jacksonville, served as ushers.

Miss Virginia Ingram, a student at MacMurray college and sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, with Charles B. Wood, cousin of the groom, as best man.

Crowned In French Satin
The bride was lovely in a princess style gown of heavy white French satin, styled with inserts of French lace at the wrist-length sleeves, sweetheart neckline, and buttons extending down the back of the gown. The three-quarter length train also featured inserts of lace. A fingertip veil of net fell from the tiara of rose point lace. For her jewelry, the bride chose a strand of pearls and an heirloom pearl pin belonging to her maternal grandmother. She carried a white prayer book, gift of the groom, and a French lace handkerchief, heirloom of the family. An arrangement of white sweet peas and ferns, centered with a single green orchid made up the bridal bouquet.

Miss Virginia Ingram, bridesmaid, was attired in a shell pink taffeta gown styled along colonial lines. A headdress of pink plumes, a single strand of pearls, and a nosegay of pink and white roses completed her costume.

Reception At Hubbs Home
Following the ceremony, a reception for the immediate families was held at the home of Mrs. Frances Hubbs, 501 West State street, where the bride has been residing for the past year and a half.

The Thanksgiving theme was carried out in the home decorations, with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, centering the lace-covered table. Assisting in the serving and pouring were Mrs. Robert Holmes, Mrs. Frank Burnell, Mrs. Charles B. Wood, Mrs. Vernon K. Pettit, Miss Lorraine Stute, Mrs. Morris Smith and Mrs. A. W. Henderson.

The couple left Thursday evening on a short honeymoon trip, after which they will reside with the groom's parents in Winchester until moving into their own apartment at 107 Diamond Court on Jan. 1st. For her going-away costume the bride wore a green suit with brown accessories, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Bride Has Been Teacher
Mrs. Longenbaugh graduated from Mountain Lakes high school in 1943 and from MacMurray college in May, 1947, specializing in psychology and physical education. Since her graduation she has been employed at the Jacksonville high school in the capacity of physical education instructor.

While at MacMurray, Mrs. Longenbaugh was president of the Recreation association, a member of Phi Nu society, and was listed in the 1947 Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Mr. Longenbaugh, a graduate of Minnoka high school, spent 22 months in the armed services, 14 of which were in overseas duty in the Philippines. Formerly employed by the Illinois Rural Electric company, he is now attending Illinois college.

Carmody-Johnson Nuptial Service Thanksgiving Day
Carrollton—In a double ring ceremony performed at 9 a. m. Thanksgiving Day by the Rev. Michael Enright, Miss Kathleen Johnson and Thomas H. Carmody Jr. were united in marriage.

The ceremony took place before the candle lighted altar of the St. John's church in this city. The soloist during the nuptial mass was Francis Geers, with Mrs. L. Thien as accompanist. Mrs. Thien also played the traditional wedding marches as the wedding party entered and left the sanctuary.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Irwin Johnson, chose for her wedding a white satin gown with a tight fitting bodice with long sleeves ending in points over the hand. The lace yoke of the gown was draped into a cape effect at the back of the neck. The full hooped skirt of the gown was scalloped at the edges showing the lace underlayer and ended in a train. The fingertip veil of illusion edged with lace was held in place with a coronet of simulated pearls. The bride's bouquet was of white roses.

Sister Is Maid-of-Honor
The maid of honor, Miss Hawley Johnson of St. Louis, sister of the bride, wore a dress of winter blue tulle with a tight fitting bodice and the long full skirt formed a bustle effect. Her headdress was a braided coronet and small plumes, and her bouquet was of yellow roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Adele Carmody of Chicago, sister of the groom, wore a fall dress American beauty in shade and made along similar lines to that of the maid of honor. Her bouquet was of American beauty roses.

Little Carol Jean Carmody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Carmody, was the flower girl and her dress of white satin was identical to that of the bride. J. B. Trost, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Trost of this city was the ring bearer and his suit was of blue jersey.

Joe Johnson, of this city, brother of the bride was best man and Jack Schmitz, of St. Louis cousin of the groom served as groomsman. The ushers were Bill Alfred of Athens, Ohio, Cletus Volles of Rola, Mo., and Russell Dowdall of Normal, Ill.

Breakfast and Reception
Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast for the members of the bridal party and the immediate family was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Johnson of this city. A reception was also held at the Johnson home from two to four after which Mr. and Mrs. Carmody left on a wedding trip. Upon their return they will make their home in Carrollton where they have their home ready for occupancy.

Mrs. Carmody is a graduate of the White Hall high school class of 1943 and has been employed in a secretarial position since her graduation in the office of Attorney Jack McDonald of this city.

Carmody, the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Carmody Sr., Carrollton, is a graduate of the Carrollton High School and attended the University of Illinois prior to his entry into the United States Navy, where he served several months. He is now employed in the Carmody Bros. Clothing Store here.

Notre Dame, Huskies Meet For First Time

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Undeclared Notre Dame will meet the University of Washington Huskies on the football field here tomorrow for the first time in history and the Irish will be shooting for their 21st consecutive triumph in their last home game of 1948.

Thirteen Notre Dame players will be making their last home appearance. They have been working in practice the past 10 days against any possible letdown.

Washington's squad will not arrive in South Bend from Chicago until shortly before game time.

Kickoff: 1:30 p.m. (CST).

A near-capacity crowd is expected for the game. If the last few blocks of seats are sold before the kick off.

Although statistically, the Washington team is not regarded here as a serious threat, it is conceded that the western boys have had their momentum and could force the contest if the Irish defense should become lethargic.

The huskies, despite their formidable opponent's record, have shown enthusiasm for this contest in their

Navy Team Finds Many Friends In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—(AP)—A Navy football team without a victory came to town today for its annual clash with Army and discovered it has friends—thousands of them.

Tomorrow's game will be the 49th time the two service teams have met on the gridiron. And seldom in those years have the two met with the odds so much in favor of one team as they are this time for unbeaten Army.

Yet here in Philadelphia, where the Cadets trimmed Pennsylvania and the Middles last week PP-1, there is a strong feeling that Navy is capable of an upset.

It is not a box-office inspired hunch. These Philadelphiaans actually believe it. Everyone of the 102,000 tickets was disposed of weeks ago, including the three for president and Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret.

Both teams worked out on the Municipal Stadium turf this afternoon—the same site where Navy almost spilled an unbeaten Army team two years ago.

They will return just before tomorrow's 1:30 p.m. (EST) kickoff when the stadium's seats will be filled. Among the spectators will be the top brass of both services, including the President and members of his cabinet, Senators, Generals and Admirals.

The weather man promises occasional light rains late tonight or Saturday with the cloudy and mild temperatures prevailing by kickoff time.

Cornell Upsets Penn, 23 To 14 In Annual Turkey Day Tilt

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—College football unfolds its most colorful spectacle—the Army-Navy game—at Philadelphia tomorrow, but the Cornell team will be looking the other way.

They'll be focusing attention on the South which is expected to fill most of the remaining open spots in the post-season fixtures.

The present list of leading bowl eligibles includes five Dixie teams—Clemson, North Carolina, Georgia, Tulane and Mississippi—plus Oklahoma, the Big Seven champion, and Oregon, the team that California beat out for the Rose Bowl bid.

See Opponent For Mustangs

Of these all but Oregon, which has closed its schedule, will be in action on the last full Saturday of the 1948 campaign.

The Cotton Bowl at Dallas is still looking for an opponent for Southern Methodist. The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans and the Orange at Miami must complete their entire lineup.

But even with the keen bowl interest there is no stealing the spotlight from the annual battle of service elevens at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium.

A crowd of 101,000, including President Truman is expected to watch Army bid for a perfect season against a Navy outfit that has lost all eight of its starts.

Odds-makers have established the Cadets three touchdown favorites.

At South Bend, Notre Dame will be looking to extend its unbeaten string to 27 games against Washington and wipe out a university record set by Knute Rockne's great 1939-1940 teams.

Clemson, one of the five unblemished powers, will try to raise its Bowl stock by beating Auburn at Mobile, Ala. Once tied North Carolina will take on Virginia at Charlottesville.

Traditional conflicts face the three Southeastern conference hopefuls—Tulane, Mississippi and Georgia. Each beaten once, they are striving for both the conference championship and a bowl date.

Georgia is host to Georgia Tech at Athens. Mississippi meets Mississippi State at Oxford. Tulane battles Louisiana State at Baton Rouge.

Wolves, Irish Land 3 Berths Each On All-Midwest Team

Chicago, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Michigan and Notre Dame, the nation's top football teams, each landed three berths to dominate the 1948 All-Midwestern selection today by the Associated Press.

Northwestern, the Big Nine runner-up to champion Michigan and Rose Bowl delegate, grabbed two positions on the honor team based on recommendations of coaches, scouts and sports writers.

Oklahoma, Big Seven king-pin, landed one spot, along with Minnesota and Purdue of the Big Nine which took seven of the 11 berths.

Picking a mythical team for this section of the country which claims it produces the toughest, toughest and best football in the nation, was no easy task.

Elliot At Quarterback

The backfield has Michigan's strategist, Pete Elliott, at quarterback, a pair of sturdy firebrand workhorses at the halves—Notre Dame's Emil Sitko and Purdue's Harry Smith—and cannon-balancing Art Murokowski of Northwestern at fullback.

Picked in the line were Dick Rifenburg of Michigan and Notre Dame's Leon Hart, a 223-pounder, at ends; 250-pounder Leo Nommeli of Minnesota and Michigan's Al Wistert (218) at tackles; Oklahoma's Paul Burris (226) and Notre Dame's Bill Fischer (226) at guards; and Alex Sarkisian of Northwestern (215) at center.

Rifenburg, ace Wolverine pass receiver, was the "midfield" of the forward wall at 197 pounds.

Although it was difficult to keep such linemen as guards Don Mason of Michigan State and Marty Wendell of Notre Dame off the first team, the tightest squeeze came in the backfield.

The second backfield combination of Notre Dame's Frank Trippucka, Chicago's Charley O'Connell, Michigan's George Talarfero of Indiana, and Lynn Chundross of Michigan State might easily steal the show from the No. 1 quartet if it came to a showdown.

The backfield pressure was so great that such brilliant performers as fullback John Pannell of Notre Dame and Joe Whisler of Ohio State; halfback Frank Aschenbrenner of Northwestern; Terry Brennan of Notre Dame; George Guerin of Michigan State; and Quarterback Jack Mitchell of Oklahoma were relegated to honorable mention.

Army-Navy Classic Heads Nation's Games

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—With scattered Thanksgiving Day contests out of the way, the '48 college football campaign reaches a rousing conclusion tomorrow, headlined by the annual Army-Navy classic at Philadelphia.

After that they will close down the training tables except at those favored institutions whose sons have been tapped for special honor and glory on New Year's Day.

Though nothing much will be at stake except Army's glittering record, the service clash will attract the day's greatest crowd—something like 100,000, including President Truman and three miles of gold braid.

The West Pointers, unbeaten and untied in eight starts, are favored to wallop their oldest and dearest rivals by about four touchdowns. The Mid-dies have yet to taste victory in eight games, though they can point out that they at least have been whacked by the best—Michigan, Notre Dame and California, among others.

From the standpoint of uncertainty of the result and richness of the prize at stake, a battle at Athens between Georgia Tech and Georgia probably is the day's outstanding event. Georgia, unbeaten in the Southeastern conference, has a good chance for a bid to the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans if it can overcome the engineers.

The North Carolina Tarheels, who trimmed Georgia in an early-season game and are said to be regarded with favor both by Sugar Bowl and Cotton Bowl officials, appear to have a romp against Virginia at Charlottesville.

Southern Methodist, already named host team in the Cotton Bowl, faces an old nemesis in Texas Christian, at Dallas. Last year the Other games include: Tulane at Louisiana State, Mississippi State at Mississippi, Florida at Alabama, Villanova at North Carolina State, Tennessee at Vanderbilt, Virginia Military at Virginia Tech, William and Mary vs. Arkansas at Little Rock, Texas Tech at Mardin-Simmons, West Virginia at Tulsa, Maryland at West Virginia, Holy Cross at Boston College, Fordham at N. Y. U., and Marquette vs. Arizona at Phoenix.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Live hogs lost 50 cents a hundredweight today in an active postholiday trade on expanded supplies, while cattle were steady and sheep firm to 50 cents higher.

Barrows and gilts were worth $22.25 to $23.25 for good and choice varieties with the top making $23.50. Sows were $19.50 to $20.50, edging to $21 for a few.

Cattle trading was split into two categories—regular market and rejects from the International Livestock exposition. Load lots of the latter hit $39, most getting $38.50 to $39.50, while cullhead throwouts topped at $39.75, most meeting $35 to $39.

In the regular trade, choice fed steers topped at $36, most medium to low-choice offerings ranging between $28 and $34.50. Good to choice fed heifers went from $27 to $33, and good beef cows topped at $22, bulls at $23.50, and vealers at $31.

Lambs topped at $26.50, clipppers at $25.85, and Montana ewes at $25.50.

New York Stock Market

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The stock market regained its balance today after Wednesday's tumble.

Most price changes were around a point or less, with gains showing a slight edge over losses.

A fair amount of activity developed. Turnover was at the rate of around 1,000,000 shares for the full session.

Even minor declines were enough to put many issues at new lows for the year. The Wednesday drop carried the general level of prices to the lowest since mid-March.

Switching operations—sale of one stock to buy another—played a prominent part of trading. Tax selling was offset by modest investment and speculative buying.

Higher a good part of the day were Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, International Harvester, Consolidated Natural Gas, Westinghouse Electric, Radio Corp., U. S. Gypsum, Illinois Central and Great Northern preferred.

Under pressure most of the time were Chesapeake & Ohio, Air Reduction, Sears Roebuck, American Can, Allied Chemical, Nickel Plate, Sinclair Oil, and United Air Lines.

As the bond market third Avenue Transit issues edged ahead at the start but later dropped abruptly. The company has just granted a temporary fare increase.

GRAINS EASE AFTER MARKET STARTS OFF WITH ADVANCE

Chicago, Nov. 26.—(AP)—After starting out with much gusto, the grain market weakened today. The market simply couldn't follow through on an opening advance which ran to more than 2 cents in corn.

From the first 15 minutes of trading onward, the market's trend was down. The opening gains were given up slowly, but before the close practically all contracts had slipped below the previous close at least for a short time.

Heavy buying at the start was based on agreement between union leaders and shipping interests to settle the Atlantic and Pacific Coast maritime strikes. Hedging pressure from the southwest in wheat and failure of aggressive demand to develop for cash corn brought about the reaction.

Receipts were: Wheat 7 cars, corn 644, oats 47 and soybeans 24.

Wheat closed 11-11 1/2 lower, December 23.71-1, corn was 1-1/2 lower, December 64 1/2, oats were 1-1/2 lower, December 17.77, soybeans were 31-34 lower, December 22.73-1/2, and land was 2 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, December $19.00-$19.02.

Pitt Athletic Officials Looking For New Director

Pittsburgh, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Pitt may spike its football purism program with some punch.

That's the way most grid experts look on the Panthers' efforts to obtain a new athletic director.

The new man would take over in time for varsity matriculation of the best Panther Fresh squad in years.

The 1948 varsity record of six wins and three losses, including a stunning upset of Penn State, was the finest in a decade.

Navy Capt. Tom Hamilton reportedly has the inside track for the athletic directorship. The first step toward deciding this will be taken Monday at a meeting of the Pitt athletic committee and the university's undergraduate deans.

Hamilton now functions in a similar post at the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. Pitt Chancellor Rufus E. Fitzgerald said Hamilton "and others" will be considered for the Pitt post.

Reports have it that the others include Harvey Harman of Rutgers; Jack "Snake" Hardin of Miami U. Fla.; Wes Fesler of Ohio State; and Lloyd Jordan of Amherst. All but Fesler and Hamilton are Pitt alumni.

Fesler reportedly has rejected Pitt overtures. The present acting athletic director is Frank Carver, Pitt publicizing man who is satisfied with that job.

But neither Hamilton nor anybody else mentioned is liable to walk deliberately into such a heavy firing line as the Pitt job unless he has some assurance that future Panther elevens will be less helpless against first class opposition.

Alsey Barber Fractures Skull In Fall From Car

Glasgow—Harley Hanback, well known Alsey barber, is in a critical condition at the White Hall hospital where he was taken Wednesday evening after suffering a fracture at the base of his skull when he fell from the bumper of a car, which had stalled.

Hanback was standing on the rear bumper in an effort to lower it so that it could lock with the front bumper of the car behind, which was attempting to push the stalled vehicle.

He apparently lost his balance and fell to the ground striking his head. X-rays revealed that he had sustained a fractured skull.

Reports from the hospital Friday morning said that he had not regained consciousness.

Truman Will See Army-Navy Game

Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—President Truman rolls up to Philadelphia in his special train tomorrow to attend the Army-Navy football game.

In preparation for his brief holiday, Mr. Truman spent a busy day, seeing 10 callers and discussing the international situation with his cabinet.

The president's wife and daughter, Chief Justice and Mrs. Vinson, members of the White House staff and a few other guests will go along. His train is scheduled to leave here at 7:40 a.m. (Central Standard Time) over the Pennsylvania railroad and arrive at a siding near the stadium at 10:30 a.m.

Navy hasn't won any football games this year and the president, who hasn't lost any elections, will sit on the Navy side of the field. No particular significance is attached to this. However, he sat with Army last year.

Man Owes Thanks To Many, Rotary Speaker Asserts

"Man should practice 'Thanks giving' every day in the year rather than at Thanksgiving once a year," Rev. W. Harris Paukhus told members of Rotary during the regular club meeting Friday noon.

Giving thanks is too often gone because it is the custom or the proper thing to do, the speaker stated, and many persons try to balance their blessings against their troubles to find out if they are supposed to be thankful.

True thanks, Rev. Paukhus said, is the spontaneous response to good, beauty and truth. Man must realize, he said, that his achievements are impossible without the achievements which have gone before. All men are debtors to past civilizations, to their friends, to their country, to their church and to God. For these things, the speaker concluded, we should be thankful every day.

Rev. Paukhus was introduced by James Bunting, program chairman. Crit Haneline presided in the absence of President H. L. Caldwell.

Lack Of Snow Fails To Slow Jolly Old Fellow; Occupies Candy House

Santa Claus is a resourceful old gentleman. Children and grownups have thought so for generations after generation. He proved it again Friday afternoon for a throng of children gathered to welcome him as he arrived in the Jacksonville business district.

Although snow has not yet fallen in this community, old Santa pulled a fast one on the crowd. He likes best to travel by sleigh, and that is exactly what he came in!

Of course, Santa had his sleigh rigged up with wheels. He told off the chaps of the Retail Council of the Chamber of Commerce that it moved forward to the Christmas season when he hopes the city and countryside will be covered by a mantle of white.

"Have to Think Quick" "Yes, sir!" A fellow has to do some quick-thinking these days," Santa Claus chuckled as he pulled up in Central Park, surrounded by hundreds of youngsters.

"Here I was with an advance date to keep in Jacksonville, and no snow! If there had been snow on the ground, I could have used my regular sleigh and dogs. My reindeer are taking up—they've got a long journey Christmas eve, you know!"

Santa explained that he and his helpers rigged up a sleigh for the Jacksonville visit, setting it on a truck and rigging up a nice Christmas float which delighted the eyes of the kiddies.

The visit of the jolly old fellow was heralded far and wide among the boys and girls in the Jacksonville area. Santa Claus was an impressive entrance from North Main Street, escorted by a police car and Wallace Baptist's sound truck, which played Yuletide music.

The sleigh on wheels traveled through the business district, with Santa bowing to all of his little and big friends.

Santa Likes His House He was delighted with the temporary home for him that has been set up on the south side of Central Park. It resembles a candy house. The Santa Claus headquarters fit in well with the other Christmas decorations, including the large hand-painted figures at each of the four main entrances to the park.

For several days the children of the Jacksonville area have been engaged in an interesting contest, guessing the means of travel Santa would use in coming to this city. Hundreds of entry blanks were clipped from the Journal Courier and mailed to Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

Children guessing the correct means of travel will be awarded inter-lottery tickets, which will be mailed to them.

Spokesmen for the Retail Council said Friday that all children who guessed a sleigh, truck, float or trailer will be given tickets, as all of these modes of transportation figured in on Santa's visit.

Santa Claus will be on the job all through the Christmas shopping season. He will be found at his home in Central Park each week day from 2 to 4 p. m., except Saturdays, when he will receive his little visitors in the morning as well as afternoon.

He made a big hit with the children Friday afternoon by distributing "all day suckers," which the children went to work on with indications that the candy would not live up to its name, as far as time is concerned.

Santa's arrival ushered in the Christmas shopping season, which will be in full swing for the next several weeks. Another big crowd of children and grownups is expected to gather at his headquarters Saturday.

Services in memory of Mrs. Mabel Meyers were held Friday at 10 a. m. at the Williamson Funeral Home, with the Rev. William J. Boston officiating.

Musical was furnished by Mrs. G. O. Webster, organist.

The floral offerings were cared for by Mrs. Ida Stark, Mrs. Carrie Bennett and Mrs. Eva Crum.

Casketbearers were Bert Harrison, Joe Girard, John Schrader, and Paul Wahl.

Burial was in East cemetery.
